FURTHER EVIDENCE IN COURT.

Testimony Regarding the Publica-

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.-The Western Union messenger boy had his inning at the Debs trial to-day. Several of the boys were called as witnesses, and all of them baffled the attorneys in their attempt at confusion in cross-examination. James Connors was the first witness called. He testified to having delivered messages to various A. R. U. officials, among them President Debs. He swore positively to having delivered at least three to Debs personally, and identified the President's signature on the delivery sheets. Gus Wheeler also a messenger, gave similar testimony, and said he had given several telegrams into Debs's hands. Fred Miller, who was stationed at the Revere House, Debs's headquarters during the strike, de-clared that he had delivered telegrams to each of the defendants. On cross-examina-tion, he pointed out the defendants in the Director Hogan, of the A. R. U., next took the stand. Hogan furnished a mild sensation by refusing to testify. He said he did not wish to be examined and was excused on the plea that as a defendant

Henry O. Shepherd, printer and publisher, the next witness, testified that his company printed the Railway Times, the official organ of the A. R. U. It was a semi-monthly paper and its publication stopped Aug. 1. Shepherd said he was usually paid in checks for the work. One of the checks was signed by Debs and Mr. Keliher, but the others he did not

Samuel H. Telor, who has charge of the composing rooms of the Henry O. Shepherd Company, testified that Director Rogers, whom he had known as editor up to March 15, came up frequently to his office to look after the make-up and proofs of the paper, but during the entire summer a Mr. Austin had acted as editor and Mr.

Rogers, so far as he knew, had taken no part in the work.

John Caldwell, a solicitor, told how he had procured the contract for printing the Railway Times. He had frequently seen

Mr. Rogers at the office prior to March 15. Mr. Walker then called David S. Geerm, shorthand reporter who had taken Mr

Debs's evidence before the federal strike commission. After much objection he read a part of it to be put in evidence. When he had finished Mr. Erwin, for the defense, demanded that the whole testimony be introduced, and the court held that the government must introduce a complete transcript of everything pertaining to the matter already in evidence. Mr. Walker then read portions of two copies of the American Railway Union constitution and submitted them after much objection as evidence. The copies varied somewhat, and Mr. Erwin wanted to prove by Secretary Keliher the date of the adoption of the second one, but Mr.

Walker objected, and the court told Mr.

Erwin he must wait until the turn of the defense came. After parts of the consti-tution had been introduced, Mr. Erwin in-sisted that it all go in, and it was ad-mitted. Mr. Walker then read certain portions of several numbers of the Railway Times and introduced them as evidence.

After a couple of reporters had testified about interviews which had been printed in their respective papers, court adjourned

Captain Freitch reports that when he was four days out from New York the Nina sprang a leak and he was compelled to build and rig a new pump before he was able to get the water under control. During this work he injured his right leg. Off the banks of Newfoundland, on Aug. 14 the Nina encountered a gale of wind and was hove to for forty-eight hours. He then found that the little schooner's rud-der was sprung, and he had to lower himself over the stern in order to partly re-pair it. He was not able to repair the rudder sufficiently for it to be used, and he was forced to steer her for two thousand miles with a rope gearing towed astern. He lost his reckoning some time after-wards and drifted for days without knowing his whereabouts. Eventually he spoke the steamer Menantic in latitude 49.40 north and longitude 41 west and got his position. The Nina was then headed straight for Queenstown.

The Nina sailed from New York on Sunday, Aug. 5. She thus makes the trip across the Atlantic in thirty-eight days, remarkable time for such a craft, and only nine days behind the time made by the yacht Valkyrie, when she returned to England from this port. The Nina is a schooner-rigged sharpie, forty-seven feet over all. She was brought here by Captain Freitch

E. P. MUSE'S DISAPPEARANCE.

A Former Indianapolis Man Suddenly Leaves Kokomo.

Edward P. Muse, a former Indianapolis young man, is mysteriously missing from his home at Kokomo. Muse went to Kokomo last January from Indianapolis and opened a drug store, which was known as the Palace pharmacy. On Saturday night he disappeared and has not since been heard of. He bought a ticket to Chicago, and it is supposed that he is now on his way to the Pacific coast. Yesterday an Indianapolis wholesale drug company took possession of the store on a two-thousanddollar mortgage. Kokomo people believe that business troubles have unbalanced the mind of the missing young man. Muse was twenty-five years old and unmarried.

AMUSEMENTS.

Fair Week Attractions.

The Grand will be launched for the season next Monday night with "Blue Jeans" as the initial attraction. This popular story of Indiana life will be seen in its usual handsome dress and acted with the customary perfection. Both scenery and company are alike admirable, and, as the play never loses its charm, the engagement next week should prove among its most successful in this city. The Grand's opening should be marked by a representative audience. There will be much to admire in this theatrical event of next Monday evening. "Blue Jeans" remains all week, with matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

There have been many startling effects introduced in the drama of late years, but Managers Eugene Robinson and James E. Nugent promise to outclass any previous attempt in this line. In "A Ride for Life" there will be a series of mechanical con-trivances that are said to revolutionize the dramatic stage. The story is said to be interesting and the dialogue impressive. This production will be seen at English's Opera House all next week, opening Mon-

The great Gauze, the only Jaivin, James White, Hillman and Vernon, Billy Reynolds, James Moore and the Crescent City quartet and Billy Kersands are the leading people. The company will be at English's Opera House to-morrow and Saturday nights, with a Saturday mat-inec. It is the only colored minstrel organization on the road and maintains the stendard set by the original Georgias years ago. The dancing, singing, cake walk and burlesque crap game are feat-

Park Theater.

"A Jay Circus" continues to draw crowds at every performance at the Park, and no wonder, for it is a very funny attraction, full of novelties and taking features. It will remain all week. Next week Madame Neuville and her son Augustin will produce "Cell 22" the first four metinees and evenings, and "The Boy Tramp" the last two. "Cell 22" is new and an exciting drama finely staged. "The Boy Tramp" is an old favorite.

Empire Theater.

"The World," that will be presented at the Empire next week, is one of the remarkable efforts of stage realism. The drama itself is an excellent one, and the company a strong one. Mr. Emery has the leading role. The scenic effects introduced are a feature that will make the play a fa-vorite. Rice and Barton's comedians are playing to big houses at the Empire this

Convention of Gold-Cure Leagues. COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Sept. 12.-The city is full of strangers wearing blue and yellow badges. They are delegates to the national convention of Keeley leaguers. When the convention was called to order to-day by President Andrew J. Smith there were about 800 delegates in attend-ance. The Fort Leavenworth, Kas., dele-gation, 100 strong, accompanied by a brass band, came in to-day. At the forenoon session the report of the executive committee, which favors disbanding of the State leagues, was presented. Harrisburg, Pa., was chosen for the next convention. Andrew J. NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Six persons who were ill on board the North German Lloyd steamship Werra, from Genoa, Aug. 30, via Gibraltar, which reached Quarantine at 9 o'clock on Monday, caused the health officers, the steamship authorities and the 167 first cabin passengers much uneasiness. The fears arising from these cases have been allayed. An examination made at Hoffman's island by Dr. Jenkins has shown that the complaint was not choiera, as was at first believed, but instead was a noncontagious diarrhea.

BRACE OF ERRORS

TWO BAD BREAKS LOSE INDIANAP-OLIS A CLOSE GAME.

Gray and Shields, between them, yesterday managed to give away a game Indianapolis should have won. There were not many people out, the larger portion of those in attendance being ladies, but the crowd was sufficiently large to express a good-sized feeling of disgust at the three rank misplays which were responsible for few scattering hits, was given a warm reception in to-day's game, and was knocked completely out of the box. The half of Kansas City's runs. Roat and Mills played good ball, their fielding being of a brilliant character, and aside from his one very costly error Shields did some clever work. Kansas City's three errors were not costly, only two runs resulting from them all. It was simply a case of the best players in the team falling over expected contest between the Winchester themselves at just the time when they and Greenfield clubs came off to-day and should have played their usual game. resulted in favor of the home team. Score:

Umpire Sheridan, heralded as the best in the Western League, made his first appearance here and signalized it by calling a Kansas City man safe at the plate in the eighth inning when Westlake had him out by at least six feet. This decision was as rank as has been seen on the grounds this season. It cost only one run, however, and the game cannot be charged up to the umpire. He had called Niles out the plate in close play, which, however, according to the acknowledged tendency of umpires to lean to the home team, was not at all out of the way, as the runner appeared to be out. Manager Manning, who was on the bench, and the members of his team kicked so hard and said so many disagreeable things about Sheridan that his break in the Stallings case was evidently due to a desire to placate them. Manning, in fact, kept up a

Indianapolis did nothing in the first, but when it came Kansas City's turn Stallings hit the second ball pitched to the leftcenter fence for three bases. Niles reached first on balls and Beard hit a sharp one to Mills, who got it on the jump, juggled the plate and then threw it to Motz in time to catch Beard. Motz returned the ball to Mills and nailed Niles at third, that on Westlake's grounder to Beard. Wentz. in trying to complete a double on West-lake, threw badly to first and Motz came in. The error cost nothing, however, as koat followed with a safe hit to center, which would have scored Motz. At this stage Westlake did a reckless piece of base running, stopping at second to see where Roat's hit had gone, and then foolishly trying to make third, where he was easily caught. Shields was retired at first easily caught. Shields was retired at first. Two bases on balls and Westlake's single to left gave Indianapolis another run in the fourth. With one out and the bases filled prospects seemed bright for a bushel of runs, but Roat and Shields proved easy marks and spoiled the outlook. In the fifth Sharsig's men took a pretty good lead, and began to look like winners. With one out, McCarthy hit to right, the ball taking a crooked bound over Stallings's shoulder and letting the runner reach third. Henry lifted a foul fly to Donohue, but Gray drove a single to left, sending McCarthy home. pennant race were shut out this afternoon in the sharpest game of the season on Toledo grounds. The game was not called until nearly 4 o'clock, as the visitors had stopped off at Dubuque to play yesterday. At the end of the sixth inning Manassau called the game on account of darkness, Foreman having struck out the opposing side without even a foul tip. Weather cold and raw. Attendance, 350. Score:

Baseball Notes. Kansas City has a much stronger team than when last here. The rest of the games this season will be called promptly at 3:30. Minneapolis follows Kansas City Saturday. Cross will pitch for Indianapolis in the second Kansas City game to-day, and Dar-by will probably go in for the visitors. Baltimore is coming down the home stretch at a great pace, and looks like a sure winner. Boston appears to be out of Detroit was beaten yesterday, so Indianapolis still has a slight margin on the proud position it has held nearly all season in the Western League race. Stallings played a great right field for Manning's men yesterday. In the seventh inning he retired the side by three fine catches of hard hits from the bats of Gray, Motz and Mills.

There seemed to be a sort of a mania for collisions in yesterday's game. Dona-hue and Klusman got together over a foul fly, Roat invaded McCarthy's territory and spoiled a catch, and McCarthy did the same thing for Gray in the eighth, jarring the ball out of his hands. It was an easy catch for Gray, but Mc-Carthy came over into center field and Chicago Infested with Thieves.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The police, in the capture of the "Mother" Martin and "Taps" Hogan gang of thieves, whose "fence," on West Fifteenth street, was raided recently, have unearthed one of the most thoroughly organized bands of robbers that ever infested the city. The gang, the police claim, was as thoroughly organized as a police force, covering the entire city by districts and working night and day "shifts." The ringleaders possessed mysterious influence, and although members of the band had been frequently arrested. they were released or dismissed with light fines. A part of the gang consisted of boys, and several of the youngsters are under
